LUNDON, 29th November. A despatch to the Chronicle from Milan says that forty-three persons were killed and 183. injured by the collision. It is stated that the majority of the killed and injured were emigrants going to America. ENCYCLICAL ON THE SCRIPTURES.

Rous 29th Navember. The Pope has issued another encyclical. It is in three parts. The first part deals with the expounding of the Scriptures. It recommends that preachers study the secred books and the history and records of these books, giving examples of the premping of Jesus and the apostles and the fathers of the church. They second part refers to the method of teaching and study, and contains instructions to theologians, prescribing the study of the ancient languages, especially the Semitio. The third is the most important. In it the Pope points out fallacious errors in the systems of interpretation of the Scriptures; dwells upon the necessity of the authority of the church in this respect and affirms the authority of the Councils of Trent and Florence and of the Vatican, and the divine inspiration of all parts of the Scriptures. It warns against the spirit of rationalistic criticism and tendency to give pr ference to scientific theories, and concludes that on points where science seems opposed to the Scriptures it must be supposed that, either the Scriptures ere badly interpreted or that the scientific reasoning is erroneous. CATHOLIOS COSSACKED.

BERL N. 23th Novamber. A private telegram to the Vossiche Zeitung says that the Russian Government recently ordered the closing of a Catholic church at Kronchs. Hearing of the order the members of the congregation flooked to the church and remained night and day to prevent the order being carried out. One night a force of troops under the Governor of Kovno entered the church, and with swords attacked the people, killing twenty within the edifice and wounding over 100. A large a number fied an | were pursued by thessacks, and were drowned while attempting to escape by swimming across a river.

All the new words which the Chinese have of latey ears been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of fereign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word lafully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. The typograph displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:— Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English Awarded in Eight Exhibitions sandry Gold and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, while! this work contains more than 50,000 English Medals, First Prizes, Diplomas of Honour, and words, and upws is of 600,000 Chinese charac- Moovi.
